ENAGO EXPRESS

Everything Enago

What's New?

Have you had a look at our latest release - our new interface for the Freelance Editor?

It is packed with features that have been developed following feedback from our freelancers like you.

The new software offers greater accessibility, better support and a host of other features that will help us strengthen our relationship even further. Our goal has always been to make it easier for you to work with us by providing an interface that is effective, intuitive and reliable.

You now have a single platform where you can manage all your job-related needs in one place, view all your jobs, keep up to date with your earnings and much more!

Reach out at flexperience@enago.work if you haven't signed up yet!

WHAT OUR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY

"Dear Editors, I just wanted to thank you for your very good and careful editing! Also Your advice was very helpful! Thank you so much, I really appreciate it."

"This manuscript is pretty bad, and was obviously just haphazardly changed in a rush."

"Terrible. The quality of the English proofreading is appalling and unreliable. The proofreader does not know even very basic terminology."

"Our native staff said the work this time was excellent. I appreciate it so much if you could provide the quality at the same level next time."

EDITOR SPEAK

MB1359, United States

I contacted a representative from Enago who was looking for freelance editors through LinkedIn. She was very professional, and the application process was straightforward and quick. I began receiving assignments shortly after signing on.

In the beginning, I could select topics that I feel comfortable with and receive assignments within those fields. If I feel uncomfortable with a subject, I can mention that and will not be further offered assignments in that area. While deadlines can be short, there is an option to ask for an extension or decline the job without penalty. The feedback system is fair as I can give further comments afterward and it feels like working together as a team even though it is remote.

The project management team is knowledgeable and prompt in their replies. With the implementation of the new software driven workflow, I am typically only contacted within the hours that I specify and has made invoicing easier.

Overall, I have been happy working with Enago and hope that we can keep moving forward together in a positive way.
