What's New?

Glimpses from Day 1 of the 9th RMAN-J!

Our team is present at Japan's foremost gathering for University Research Administration (URA) enthusiasts. Our hearts are filled with joy as we unveil our involvement in this prestigious occasion.

This event serves as a rallying point for research support leaders hailing from various universities across Japan. Together, we embark on a mission to delve into innovative approaches that can enhance the realm of research administration.

Expecting a vibrant exchange of insights and the spark of collaborative ventures throughout these two engaging days.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY

"I am pleased with the quality of proofreading and overall service. The customer relations team is very courteous and helpful. I will continue to use Enago's services in future."

"Why are you reinserting the references in strange position in text? I don't understand what it means. Also, there are many mistakes, such as typing proper noun incorrectly. And for that, we give our English rating of 2. This is the worst English proofreading I have ever seen."

"I am very satisfied with the service. The review has been positive and added value to improve my manuscript. I am very impressed with the high quality of editing done and also intend to use Enago's services in future."

"I would appreciate it if you could check the contents of the work to be handled and have the English proofread. After proofreading, the content of the synopsis had changed, and it was unusable."

EDITOR SPEAK

MB578, United Kingdom

I must admit that my experience with Enago overall is incredibly positive. It is easy to communicate with the Project Management team, which tends to be readily available to respond to any questions regarding any of the assignments and tends to accommodate any deadline extensions, whenever requested, within the limits of the author deadline. In turn, I tend to do my best to return the assignments as soon as possible to accommodate as much work from Enago as necessary.

The feedback mechanism is incredibly useful, and I believe it has helped so far to steadily move my feedback reports towards the excellence end of the spectrum.

Regarding “what would I prefer to do most”, I must admit I enjoy much more substantive editing assignments and jobs such as pre-publication peer-review, or journal selection assistance, where I believe my skills and experience can be most useful for our authors. In terms of topics, variety is beautiful, and I truly enjoy receiving manuscripts from what could not appear to be my immediate area of expertise. Yet, I believe it is within my core expertise (environmental sciences, ecology, agriculture, microbiology, climate change and earth sciences) where I shine the most.
