WHAT OUR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY

"I am truly happy to have received this unparalleled service! I would have requested it even at a higher price. Please keep up the good work. Being able to teach music lyrics! We are able to solve once a big problem that we have not been able to solve for half a century."

"I would like to see the quality of the manuscripts improved a little more (distortion of notation, typos, etc. here and there) especially for japanese texts."

"The editor gave me some really good suggestions and her command of the subject and vocabulary shows her professionalism. Thank you for your efforts."

"After reviewing the contents of the editing service, the original meaning of many sentences has been lost after editing and grammar does not seem to be smooth, so it has not yet be possible to submit the manuscript successfully."

EDITOR SPEAK

MB3027, United States

I started working for Enago since 2022. I remember receiving assignments as soon as I sent them the completed paperwork. The interface is very easy to use; everything is intuitive and straightforward. I receive assignments almost every day, and I can accept or refuse them based on my subject preferences and availability. The articles are varied, which keeps the work stimulating; I learn new things every day! The English level of the documents I receive fluctuates. Sometimes they are very well written, and I focus on the coherence of the content; other times, they are hard to decipher, in which case you can leave comments for the author to clarify what they meant.

In terms of deadlines, the time provided is generally more than sufficient. If not, the Enago team is pretty flexible, and they have always allowed me extra time when I had an emergency or if the task was more challenging than expected.

Communication is good. There is an online chat for simple questions, and the management team is very responsive by email. Enago sends me feedback frequently based on the feedback they receive from clients; those are very useful.
