ENAGO EXPRESS

Everything Enago

What's New?

Benedicte H.J. Liu and Neha Arya marked our presence at the QS Higher Ed Summit: Asia Pacific 2023 at Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, Malaysia, from November 7-9. The Summit was insightful, featuring experts from Academia, STEM Publication Industry, and Policymakers. We actively addressed challenges such as automation and communicating best practices. We had the pleasure of connecting with various stakeholders, sharing perspectives, and paving the way for future collaborations.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS HAVE TO SAY

"This is my first manuscript submitted for Enago editing, The revised versions were wonderful. I deeply appreciate what you have done and will require your assistance much more in the future. "

"The earlier-than-expected delivery was very helpful as it allowed us to have a little extra time to meet the conference deadline. Also, the detailed explanation of the proofreading made it easier for us to make the corrections to our satisfaction"

"The Editor of the journal pointed out that the quality of the English needed to be improved, and I had to re-edit the manuscript. Therefore, I rated you low. "

"While editing manuscripts in diverse fields is an interesting part-time job, many practical and pragmatic problems in each area ultimately have hampered my ability as an editor to work on assignments efficiently."

EDITOR SPEAK

BH237, United States

As a retired instructor of English composition and literature, editing manuscripts for academic journal publication fulfills my need for continued learning and stimulation. I enjoy the variety of manuscripts offered by Enago, while I also stay in touch with the study and criticism of English and world literature. I am gratified to work internationally. Dare I say working with Enago has opened new worlds to me?

Globalization certainly continues apace, and I believe I am contributing positively to authors in Asia, Europe, and South America who, for various reasons, must publish in the English language. With Enago's evolving feedback systems, my writing and editing skills have continued to improve.

Additionally, once I completed the paperwork for international payment and transfer of funds, Enago has ensured that the financial systems function efficiently.

Working with Crimsonite professionals halfway around the world has been an enlightening and pleasant experience. Despite meeting these colleagues only on a variety of electronic venues, I feel close to them. Crimsonites have treated me not only with professional respect but also with cordiality and kindness—acknowledging personal exigencies ungrudgingly, addressing human error positively, and warmly personalizing our relationships.
