EDITOR SPEAK

MB1641, Netherlands

I have enjoyed working with Enago as a editor over the years. I appreciate the flexibility provided by Enago to accept work when I have the time and the lack of pressure to take more work than I can at any given moment.

The papers vary widely in terms of topics and quality of writing. I have received feedback on my edited assignments from the Editing team, and they are generally respectful of my opinion; they sometimes accept my explanations and at times teach me something new.

The payment is simple and straightforward; each month, the projects I have completed are listed in the Freelancer Portal; I can accept or reject the total invoice and the amount is delivered in just over a month.

Enago offers a convenient, pleasant way to improve one's editing skills and experience as well as to have an established editing career.
