ENAGO EXPRESS

Everything Enago

What's New?

We recently concluded two landmark author workshops in hashtag#Indonesia, collaborating with two of its top-tier universities: University of Indonesia and Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM). Both workshops garnered positive responses from participants representing various Indonesian universities.

Enago is deeply committed to supporting the academic community in Indonesia and globally by offering expert services and resources that empower researchers to navigate the complexities of publication in high-impact Journals.

EDITOR SPEAK

---

BH177, United States

Il have worked with Enago for several years. Over the course of that time, it have provided me with a constant and a reliable flow consistently, interesting work and, what is more, a significant share of my overall work.

The deadlines I am assigned can be tight, but I have found that the project managers are understanding about providing me with extensions when I need them. These project managers are, by the way, always available when I need clarification on a document or client instructions through a convenient chat application through the freelancer-facing web interface.

Regular quality audits are performed as well, and all customer complaints are investigated to see whether they have merit.
